

leadership delegates

travel the world and earn university credit

Eastern Washington University's Eisenhower Center allows students participating in the People to People Ambassador Leadership Program to make use of the leadership experience as a platform for growth as an individual and as a student while also earning university credit.

The Eisenhower Center has developed courses to complement and enhance your Ambassador Leadership experience. This opportunity allows you to earn a college transcript that will distinguish you from your competition when applying to college.

Enroll today and challenge yourself to get the maximum educational value from your experience!
